Companies' experiences of International Talent Recruitment Day

"Compared to traditional recruitment events, this online event is much more efficient to participate in. We can easily talk to potential candidates we have preselected, and who have already expressed interest in our positions."

"We found that this online event was highly effective in managing our schedules, and participation was straightforward and easy."

"Compared to other ways of connecting with talented international job seekers, the candidates in this event were of particularly high quality."

"We appreciated the strong marketing of the North Karelia region during the event. Work-life balance and leisure activities were emphasized. We wouldn't have been able to do this on our own."
